

St. Jamesians February Events

Below is a list of St. James' events planned especially for parishioners in their 20s & 30s (known as the St. Jamesians). Newcomers and friends are always welcome at St. Jamesians events. If you have questions, please email me at ksalisbury@stjames.org. I hope to see you soon! Kate

First Sunday Suppers resume in April

There will be no first Sunday suppers this February or March. On March 7, Bishop Tutu will be at St. James' to celebrate our bicentennial. Instead of the 6:30 p.m. service and dinner, everyone is encouraged to attend Bishop Tutu's panel discussion, The Church and Global Reconciliation, from 4:30-6:30 p.m.

Bowling with Kids in Need

Saturday, February 13, 10:30-2:00

We need more adults for the bowling party we're co-hosting with PIM Children this month. The party is for children whose parents are incarcerated. The boys and girls really enjoy this event and we need a few more chaperones to make it work. The group meets at St. James' at 10:30 and takes the subway to Harlem Lanes. Suggested donation is $10/person. Lunch available for purchase. RSVP to me at ksalisbury@stjames.org.

Monthly 20s & 30s Brunches:

Sunday, 2/21, 12:30 p.m.

Every third Sunday of the month, St. Jamesians meet at coffee hour following the 11:15 service to go out together for brunch in the neighborhood. Newcomers are especially welcome.

Annual 20s & 30s Winter Retreat

Friday-Sunday, February 26-28

Escape the city for a weekend of home cooking, fellowship and snow, minutes from Hunter Mountain. Cost is $200, which includes transportation, lodging and food. RSVP to Kate to reserve a spot.

And Save the Date...

20s & 30s Lenten Dinner/Poetry Series

Thursdays 6:30-8:00 p.m., March 4, 11 & 18

Parishioners in their 20s and 30s are invited to a three-part discussion series on poetry led by English teacher Brad Whitehurst and The Rev. Craig Townsend. An ecumenical assortment of poems on the themes of epiphany, praise and journey will be discussed. Poetry buffs and beginners are both very welcome. Dinner will be served. This series is especially recommended to St. Jamesians taking part in this year's group Lenten devotion to attend all of the Holy Week services.
