

ST. JAMES' CHURCH

Invitations & Information

June 18, 2017

Dear friends,

My husband and I recently moved into a new apartment. Andrew knew he wanted the place when he saw the private deck. I knew I was in love with the place when I saw the jacuzzi tub. Folks, we are living the dream!

We're at that stage where we've lived here for a few weeks now, and we're discovering that the initial way we'd set it up might not be the most ideal. We thought the chairs would work by the windows, but it turns out they look nicer by the hutch. We thought we'd keep the table a bit back from the coat closet, but it ends up feeling better when we center it between the closet and the spiral staircase.

We know that God's work is for our good, to make more room for Jesus.

In many ways, life with Jesus is like this. We invite him into our lives. We're excited. It's all fresh and new and full of possibility. And then it turns out the furniture of our hearts needs rearranging. Jesus reveals desires that need to be moved, and shows us gifts that need to be given more space. He also points out some decor that's simply got to go, even if it's well-worn and favored: bitterness, fear, pride, or greed.

Letting Jesus rearrange the furniture of our hearts is a life-long process. It can be tiring, scary, and uncomfortable. But we know that God's work is for our good, and that this rearranging serves to make more room for Jesus. A heart more and more full of Jesus — that's truly living the dream!

In Christ,

Chris Harding, Director of Youth & Young Adult Ministries

» START HERE TO BEGIN YOUR LIFE IN CHRIST

Welcome to St. James'

- Pick up a "Start Here" brochure and return the welcome card to provide or update your address.
- Introduce yourself to any of the clergy.
- First Steps
Meet next to the bell at the back corner of the church after the 10:30 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. services for an informal conversation with a member of the clergy about what led you to St. James' and where you might be called to go in your spiritual life.

About today's celebration

The readings today provide us with insight into who we are as the people of God. The Gospel reading is the account of the calling and commissioning of the twelve apostles. They are sent forth with the message of God's Kingdom. Later Jesus will send larger groups to proclaim the good news and after his resurrection, he sends all of us into the world to bear the message.

The first reading continues the story of Abraham and Sarah. Many years have passed; still God's promise to give them a son has not been fulfilled and Sarah is now too old. However, God comes to them and renews the promise. Sarah laughed at the idea but in the twenty-first chapter, we learn the son was born. He was called Isaac, which is Hebrew for "a laughing matter."

Today's reading from Romans tells us something else about our identity. We are a people who have been reconciled with God through Jesus' death. As Paul states in the chapter that follows, we have been incorporated into that death by baptism and thus our reconciliation with God is complete.

As a people called to proclaim good news, to live lives reconciled to God, and to be the holy priesthood of the new covenant, we gather to celebrate the mysteries of that covenant. The Eucharistic meal also reveals us as a people, like Abraham and Sarah who meet God in holy meals and find ourselves called by God into community with God.

A season of growth

Did you know that children grow more quickly during summer months than they do in any other season? In this season of Pentecost, we are challenged to grow as well. Jesus' disciples grew into their roles as apostles in the weeks and months after they received the gift of the Holy Spirit, and Christ calls us to grow in our discipleship even still.

- How have you grown in your discipleship this year? Consider how your life of faith has fed you so far!
- Where would you like to be at the end of this year? Reflect on areas that feel like they could use extra nourishing in the next six months.
- Can you challenge yourself to grow a step or half-step in your giving? Begin to think about where you would like to be this time next year.

If you haven't yet committed a percentage of your income to God's work at St. James', please join with the hundreds of parishioners who have by visiting stjames.org/2017commitment.
