

St. James' Bicentennial Kick-Off Celebration

On Sunday, January 10, the Rt. Rev. Mark Sisk, Bishop of New York, came to St. James' to help us celebrate the official launch of our bicentennial year. Here is a sampling of the day in images taken by photographer Kara Flannery.

The Altar Guild's new bicentennial banner was carried in the procession.

Bishop Sisk preached and celebrated the Eucharist at the bicentennial kick-off service. He wore a jeweled pectoral cross given to Bishop Horace Donegan (11th Rector of St. James') by St. James' parishioner Mrs. Thatcher in honor of her mother Mrs. Baker during Donegan's tenure as 12th Bishop of New York (1950-1972).

Parishioner Jan Golann chairs the Bicentennial Committee and keeps all its projects running smoothly.

Faithful Past, Unlimited Future

A 200-year timeline putting major events in the life of St. James' in the context of New York City and the world was unveiled for the kickoff celebration. The 12-foot timeline is hung on the lower level of the Parish House along the hallway near the kitchen and will be available throughout the year.

All images ©2010 Kara Flannery

